SJSU King Library is Open!

Fall 2021 Hours
- Monday - Thursday: 8 a.m. - 12 a.m.
- Friday: 8 a.m. - 6 p.m.
- Saturday: 10 a.m. - 6 p.m.
- Sunday: 1 p.m. - 12 a.m.

For in-person or virtual library service hours, please visit library.sjsu.edu/library-hours. For San José Public Library hours, please visit sjpl.org/hours.

No food or drinks are allowed inside the building.
Bring Tower ID for access during SJSU hours.
Face coverings are required inside the building.

LATEST LIBRARY NEWS

- Michael Meth named Dean of SJSU King Library
- New "21@2021" Virtual Exhibit Elevates an Ancient Chinese Artform to a New Realm
- San José State Launches "In Our Own Words, a Community Collection of COVID-19 Experiences"
Exhibits
Throughout the semester, the library offers a variety of cultural exhibits hosted by the Africana, Asian American, Chicano, and Native American Studies Center as well as a dedicated space on the second floor showcasing artwork from local artists.

University Scholar Series
Hosted by Provost Vincent J. Del Casino, Jr., this series showcases important research and scholarly activities of SJSU faculty members. All three scholar series events are from 12 p.m. to 1 p.m.

Prof. Ryan Skinnell, Dept. of English and Comparative Literature
Wednesday, September 22, 2021

Prof. Pei-Tzu Tsai, Dept. of Communicative Disorders and Sciences
Wednesday, October 20, 2021

Prof. Susanna Khavul, School of Management
Wednesday, December 1, 2021

RSVP NOW

SJSU Annual Author & Artist Awards
Friday, February 18, 2022
6:30 - 8:30 p.m.
SJSU King Library, 8th Floor, Grand Reading Room

Faculty and staff who published a first edition book or exhibited a significant work of art in 2020 or 2021 are encouraged to submit their works for campus recognition at the SJSU Annual Author & Artist Awards celebration.

SUBMIT NOW

JUSTICE FOR OUR LIVES
An Oree Orinol Design

Collections
Our print collections are available for browsing or request via OneSearch for pickup at our 1st floor

Reading List by Leganto
With access to over 1.6 million electronic items, you can easily create a

We have acquired some exciting new databases for circulation desk. Ebooks and electronic resources are always available online. HathiTrust Emergency Temporary Access Services has ceased with the reopening of the stacks.

Digital Humanities Center Coming to SJSU
Over the next five years, SJSU King Library and the College of Humanities and Arts will work together to build the Digital Humanities Center in the library. Are you engaged with research in digital humanities? View our growing list of projects and submit your work to be highlighted on our website.

Memorialize Your Experiences
“In Our Own Words: A Multilingual Public History of the COVID-19 Pandemic in the Bay Area,” is a public digital humanities project designed to document Bay Area residents' personal COVID-19 pandemic experiences. Share with friends and family so we can capture their memories of this historic moment.

SUBMIT NOW

SHARE TODAY

Digital Humanities Center
Coming to SJSU
Over the next five years, SJSU King Library and the College of Humanities and Arts will work together to build the Digital Humanities Center in the library. Are you engaged with research in digital humanities? View our growing list of projects and submit your work to be highlighted on our website.

SUBMIT NOW

Digital Humanities Center
Coming to SJSU
Over the next five years, SJSU King Library and the College of Humanities and Arts will work together to build the Digital Humanities Center in the library. Are you engaged with research in digital humanities? View our growing list of projects and submit your work to be highlighted on our website.

SUBMIT NOW

Memorialize Your Experiences
“In Our Own Words: A Multilingual Public History of the COVID-19 Pandemic in the Bay Area,” is a public digital humanities project designed to document Bay Area residents' personal COVID-19 pandemic experiences. Share with friends and family so we can capture their memories of this historic moment.

SUBMIT NOW